Health and Safety Terms and Conditions– Face Painting

Funny Faces takes Health and Safety issues very seriously and as such requires that all our services and activities are delivered in a safe environment, by skilled and experienced staff, using professional methods and products. In this way both our staff and clients will be able to enjoy the events to the maximum, and risk of accidents and/or injury will be minimised.

1.Products

Funny Faces uses only professional, water based products which are formulated to EU regulations. They are made by the 'Snazaroo' company, and are

We give the following advice to event and party organisers, and those being painted:- All face paints, glitters, and glitter dusts, and should be removed with normal soap and water. It is recommended that face paints are removed after 2 or 3 hours, and children should NEVER be allowed to go to bed without removing the face paint. Some colours may leave slight colouring of the skin longer than others, but this is entirely normal and will quickly fade.

We will make every effort to protect fabrics and clothing, but will not be liable or responsible for any damage to a person's clothing or property at any time.

(If paint gets on fabrics, or clothing it is best to rub stain with soap, and soak overnight in a 'Biotex' type product, before washing according to manufacturer's instructions).

2.Staff

Funny Faces is run by Delia Webb Bsc (Hons), C&G Level III Education and Childcare, who has over twenty years experience of working within the fields of education, the arts, and community development. Her face painting, and theatrical make up skills have spanned 25 years, during which time she has worked with theatre/drama/festival groups in Liverpool, Manchester, Wigan, and Cornwall. She is fully covered by public liability insurance, and an enhanced Criminal Records Bureau disclosure. In addition she is a qualified First Aider, and has level 2, and 3 qualifications in Health and Safety from the Chartered Institute of Environmental Health.

3.Methods

Funny Faces expects the event or party organiser to provide a safe environment in which to work. For outdoor events, the organisers must provide safe, and acceptable shelter and/or protection from the elements (wind, rain, direct sun etc). We will make every effort to maintain our own equipment, and immediate painting area safe and hazard free at all times, but will not be held liable or responsible for any accidents or damage caused by others attending the venue or event (a separate Risk Assessment is available to all event and party organisers on request). At no time will we be responsible for overall supervision of queues waiting to be painted, or other children, young people, or adults attending the venue/event/party and organisers must therefore arrange an adequate number of responsible adults to be present to ensure appropriate levels of supervision. Organisers must ensure access to fresh cold water, and toilet facilities. Face and body painting will be carried out in accordance with the following guidelines:-

- At public events/venues no unaccompanied child under the age of 16 years will be painted (for private parties see below).
- No child under the age of three years will be painted.
- We reserve the right to refuse to paint any child displaying signs of infection, or illness that may present a risk to others or increase the likelihood of a reaction to the products being used e.g. skin conditions such as impetigo or eczema, nasal discharge, head lice etc.
- Without prejudice, we reserve the right to refuse to paint (or stop painting) any child or young person that does not want to be painted, or who displays behaviour that may endanger himself, or others around.
- Without prejudice, we reserve the right to refuse to paint any design or symbol that may be considered offensive to others.
- It remains the responsibility of the parent/guardian/carer who is accompanying the child or young person, or the private party organiser to inform the face painter of any reason or condition that may prevent that person from being painted e.g. sensitive skin, allergies, or behavioural difficulties. If a child or young person wishes to be painted for the first time, a 'full face' will not be done, but a small test design will be offered. We will not be held liable or responsible for any reactions to our paints or equipment at any time.
- In the case of private parties, it remains the responsibility of the party organiser to ensure all children and young people attending the party have permission to be painted.
- It is the responsibility of the event or party organiser to ensure the overall safety of the venue (indoor or outdoor) i.e that it complies with all current legislation with regards to Health and Safety, Fire Regulations, and the Disability Discrimination Act.
- We will not be held liable or responsible for any accident, injury or damage caused by unsafe behaviour, or inappropriate use of products, materials, or equipment by any individual.
- We aim to be as inclusive as possible whilst maintaining the safety of each person being painted, our staff, and all others in the area. Without prejudice, if we consider 'full face paint' is not appropriate for a particular person we will try to offer a safe alternative e.g. hand, or arm design.
- A clean sponge is used on each person being painted. All sponges are cleaned and sterilised before being re-used. All brushes are rinsed thoroughly before each person being painted.
- Fresh water is used for each person being painted.

- In order to reduce risks of infection, each person being painted should present a clean face/area to be painted. Any dirt/food debris will need to be removed prior to painting, and we will offer clean paper towels and fresh water to the accompanying adults in order for this to be done.
- We will maintain a professional attitude at all times, and ensure we always remain sensitive to each person's individual needs.
- In order to maintain high standards of health and safety we will not allow any other person to use or apply our equipment or products.
